PUBLICATION OF DRAFT NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT BIODIVERSITY BILL FOR PUBLIC COMMENT

Published On: 3 June 2024 By Saturn Media Categories: Latest News

See below the draft National Environmental Management: Biodiversity Bill (the Biodiversity Bill), which has been published for public comment by Minister Creecy. The public has a period of 60 days to review and comment on the proposed Biodiversity Bill.

Upon its enactment, the Biodiversity Bill will repeal and replace the current National Environmental Management: Biodiversity Act, 2004 (Act No. 10 of 2004) (NEMBA).

WRSA has engaged our legal counsel to assist in a thorough review of the proposed Biodiversity Bill. We will keep our members informed about any amendments and developments.

We strongly encourage our members to provide their input and to highlight any specific concerns regarding the Biodiversity Bill. Please direct your comments to our office.
